

SUSTAINABILITY SELF-ASSESSMENT

To gauge how sustainable your business is, use the Sustainability Self-Assessment below and see how you can improve your business credentials.

1. Does your business have an Environmental Policy? Y N
2. Is there an active and visible member of staff within the business responsible for Environmental Management? Y N
3. Does your business have an environmental strategy? Y N
4. Does your business have clear and measureable environmental performance objectives? Y N
5. Do you monitor and report your environmental objectives? Y N
6. Has your business developed and implemented a waste reduction strategy? Y N
7. Has your business developed and implemented an energy reduction strategy? Y N
8. Has your business developed and implemented a carbon management program? Y N
9. Is your business aware of its legal responsibilities and are regular checks undertaken to ensure your business is compliant? Y N
10. Has your business implemented, or does it intend to implement an environmental management system e.g. 14001? Y N

WHAT DO YOUR RESULTS MEAN?

Mostly 'Yes' - Well done, you have the fundamentals of a sustainable business. You should maybe consider carrying out a gap analysis to compare your actual performances against your potential performance.

Mostly 'No' - Your business may not be taking advantage of potential resource efficiency savings that could save your business money. Contact us to see how we can help your business reach its full potential.